Position from our customer:

Lead Data Analyst (m/f/d)

Berlin, Germany

DESCRIPTION

We are a young, well funded FinTech in the heart of Berlin. Our goal is to help SMEs grow by improving and diversifying their financing opportunities in a smart, tech-driven way. We are currently in the process of building out a scalable data infrastructure and crosscompany reporting framework, supporting operational planning, continuous improvement and strategic decision making. Do you get motivated by the speed only found in startups? Do you get motivated by working alongside high-achieving and experienced professionals? Great, we are looking for YOU!

REQUIREMENTS

- You are passionate about analyzing and diving into data, defining KPIs, and building and maintaining scalable data products
- You have at least 4-5 years of experience in data analysis and a degree in statistics, finance, economics, mathematics, or similar quantitative discipline
- You have a good understanding of statistical methods/techniques such as regression and classification and some experience in applying this knowledge into data products running in production
- Preferably, you have some experience maintaining ETL scripts related to data transformation
- Preferably, you are familiar with solving data extraction and analysis related challenges in some programming language, such as Python
- You have experience in gathering requirements from stakeholders and presenting your findings (PowerPoint, Notebooks, etc.)

BENEFITS

- Unique opportunity to shape your own path - We truly look for driven individuals.
- Work in a cross functional environment - got a question? Just ask!
- You will be part of the core team of our young and talented characters at the heart of Berlin
- Fresh Bio fruits, Snacks and Drinks are provided for you
- We regularly go for team lunches and team events, in order to get to know one another outside the office
- We reimburse your BVG-ticket so you can get to and from work free of charge
- As physical activity is essential in staying active and creative, we subsidize your "Urban Sports Club" membership

IT-hiring relocation service provides assistance in:

- renting a furnished apartment in the center of Berlin (Mitte) for the first 2-3 months;
- organizing an appointment in Ausländerbehörde and assisting during the process of getting the working permit (Blue Card);
- arranging all required registration processes;
- supporting the candidate to focus on work — we assist the family with all needs what can occur in the beginning.
